We really liked it! We went at 3:30, which is late enough for the final meal of the day, but early enough... get lunch prices! There are cold items in the salad bar for lunch. Very well, very filling. But don't eat too much... Save space for meat! Turn your coast to green, and the men with meat begin to come around, cutting pieces of meat so you can eat. They seem to keep coming and coming! It's all very tasty. We had bacon steak, bacon wrapped filet, pork ribs, picanha, prime beef, sausage, bacon wrapped turkey, etc. very good, very good! The salad bar is all you can eat. Meat is everything you can eat. Side dishes are served in a family style and there is everything you can eat (for example: mashed potatoes, mixed vegetables, etc.) Then, on all the meat... we ordered dessert! Coconut pie had to die. NY Cheesecake was very good. Expect about $10/piece dessert. More Churrascaria Plataforma Brazilian Steakhouse is a Rhodes-style restaurant. Rodizio is a way to serve meat originating in the south of Brazil in the early 1800s. The concept is to serve various pieces of beef - tenderloin, baby beef, upper round, skirt steak, short ribs, brisket, rib eyes; pork - ham, pork ribs, sausage, pork tenderloin, suckling pig; chicken - chicken legs, chicken worm; turkey - wrapped in bacon; lambs, fish, etc. in a row, each eaters separately at their table. Food usually begins with a trip to the gourmet salad bar, which contains a variety of vegetables and, in addition to four hot dishes, consists of salads. A variety of side dishes are also served at your table. The main course, the highlight of the meal, will begin when you turn upside down your coastal-sized chip from the red side to the green side, signaling about the meat cutters you are ready to serve.
